Read

A Read the story. Where are Alvaro and his mother? What are they looking for?

B Read the story again. Remember: As you read, summarize the most important events. Think about the character and what happens.

The Coin

It was Sunday morning at the Plaza Mayor in Madrid, Spain. Alvaro was with his mom, and he was very excited because they were going to the coin market. Alvaro loved to collect coins.

The market was crowded with people. Alvaro clutched his mother's hand tightly. He thought the crowd was a bit terrifying! When they got to the market, they saw the tables covered with trays and baskets of coins. It was hard to get to the table, but Alvaro bravely inched closer.

"Excuse me, sir..." he started politely. But before he could finish his sentence, a man rudely pushed in front of him. He started speaking aggressively to the vendor. The man said that he could not find a coin he had seen in a poster. He pointed angrily to a poster above the table.

"I'm sorry," said the vendor calmly. "That coin shown on the poster is a very rare coin. I haven't seen one like that in my collection."

The man scowled angrily and left the table.

Alvaro looked at the picture on the coin poster. It showed both sides of a coin. One side had a picture of two globes and a crown above them, and the other side had a shield with lions and a castle. The label under the picture said 1770. The coin was about 250 years old!

Nervously, Alvaro started to speak again.

Think
What has happened in the story so far?

"Excuse me," he said, "May I see the Spanish coins?

"Yes, of course," answered the vendor. He showed Alvaro a big tray of coins.

There were so many coins! Alvaro looked at all the different dates and pictures on them. He asked his mom if he could get one of them. While she was buying the coin, Alvaro looked down. He saw a coin with globes and a crown on one side, and a shield on the other—the coin on the poster! The delicate design was so beautiful!

"Sir?" he said shyly to the vendor. "Is this the coin that the man was looking for?"

The vendor's eyes opened wide. "You found the rare coin! Well, that man was greedy for coins, but he didn't know how to study them like you do! You are a fine coin collector."

Then the vendor reached out to Alvaro and gave him ten more coins.

"Thank you for being a polite customer. And thank you for finding my rare coin!"
