FOR: DAYTON'S SOUTHDALE CENTER
THE ARCHITECTS OF SOUTHDALE

I. VICTOR GRUEN & ASSOCIATES

Victor Gruen & Associates is a planning team of architects and engineers with headquarters in Los Angeles and offices in Detroit, New York, Minneapolis, and San Francisco.

5 Actively engaged in projects in almost every state as well as abroad, the Gruen organization was chosen as architect for Southdale in 1952.

10 The five partners of the firm, Victor Gruen, Karl Van Leuven, Jr., R. L. Baumfeld, Edgardo Contini, and Ben S. Southland, were brought together in the common belief that individual ingenuity coupled with disciplined teamwork offers the best approach to today's complex problems in planning.

15 As senior partner, Victor Gruen is responsible for the concept development of major projects. R. L. Baumfeld heads the Los Angeles office and has been in charge of many large projects, among them the Southdale Center. Edgardo Contini directs engineering for the firm and is in charge of coordinating engineering and architectural design. Karl Van Leuven, Jr., head of the Detroit office, has been partner in charge of such major projects as Northland Regional Shopping Center 20 in Detroit. Ben S. Southland is chief designer and director of planning.

25 Herman Guttman, project coordinator for the Southdale Shopping Center, is head of the Victor

Gruen Minneapolis office and an associate in the firm.

30 Victor Gruen & Associates has steadily expanded the range of its activities. In the commercial field, the firm has progressed from the planning of individual shops and department stores to the development of planned regional shopping centers that have changed American shopping habits.

35 In the residential field, Victor Gruen & Associates has planned everything from individual houses, apartments, and housing projects to complete community developments that meet all the needs of modern living.

40 Among Gruen projects of special interest are: Milliron's Department Store (now The Broadway) in Los Angeles, the first one-story department store with roof parking.

45 The Mid-Wilshire Medical Building and two 13-story Tishman Buildings in Los Angeles, all representing advances in design and planning 50 (lightweight steel buildings).

55 A number of large regional shopping centers throughout the country, among them Northland in Detroit, the world's largest. Others include Eastland, also in suburban Detroit, Glendale in Indianapolis, Valley Fair and Bay Fair, both in the San Francisco Bay area, and South Bay in Redondo Beach, California. (The latter in association with Quincy Jones and Frederick Emmons, Architects A.I.A.).

60 Master planning for the Palos Verdes Peninsula, providing for residential, civic, commercial, educational, and recreational development of an outstanding land area of 7000 acres.

65 Master planning for the redevelopment of a downtown area in Detroit (the Gratiot-Orleans area), in association with Oskar Stonorov and Minoru Yamasaki.

A comprehensive study for redevelopment of the entire downtown area of Fort Worth, Texas. The study has produced a dramatic plan for renewal of the heart of the city through a long-range program aimed at solving traffic, parking, and urban rehabilitation problems.

The Gruen organization created the master plan for Southdale, in addition to designing the regional shopping center. In addition to Dayton's, it designed the following stores and special facilities:

Egekvist Bakery, Boutell's, Walters, the First National Bank, Thorpe Bros., J. B. Hudson Company, Juster Bros., Peter Pan Restaurant, Bringgold Meat Company, Bjorkman's, Edina Liquor Store, Sidewalk Café, Garner Records, The Children's Center, and The Toy Fair.

II. VICTOR GRUEN

Victor Gruen, the head of Victor Gruen & Associates, was born in Vienna, Austria, where he received his architectural training at the Technological Institute, Advanced Division for Building Construction, and the Academy of Fine Arts. He was certified as an architect in Vienna in 1929 and practiced in that city until 1938, when he moved to the United States and opened his first office in New York. He is a registered architect in many states and his firm now has offices in Los Angeles, Detroit, New York, Minneapolis, and San Francisco.

Gruen's early work was in the fields of individual store design and residential projects. He is regarded as a pioneer in modern store design in work ranging from small shops to large department stores. Gruen turned to shopping center design early as a challenging new field of architectural expression. He again won praise. As this firm expanded, the scope of his professional work grew to include such diverse projects as office buildings, private homes, public and tract housing projects, and the planning of complete communities including homes, apartment buildings, office buildings, shopping centers, civic buildings, schools, and recreational facilities. His unique achievements in these fields, especially in the design of shopping centers, have led him in recent years into the field of city planning and urban redevelopment.

Gruen's work has been widely published in such professional publications as PROGRESSIVE ARCHITECTURE and ARCHITECTURAL FORUM; in professional books such as SHOPS AND STORES and FORMS AND FUNCTIONS OF TWENTIETH CENTURY ARCHITECTURE; in technical and trade publications such as LIGHTING, ENGINEERING NEWS RECORD, THE AMERICAN CITY, and in FORTUNE, BUSINESS WEEK, THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, LIFE, THE NEW YORKER, COLLIER'S, LADIES HOME JOURNAL, McCALL'S, and HARVARD BUSINESS REVIEW.

He has spoken frequently before professional, technical, business, and planning groups and has written many articles for professional, trade, and business publications, and is presently working on two books. He has been selected for numerous awards for outstanding architectural work by the American Institute of Architects and other groups.

Of special interest is Gruen's comprehensive study of shopping center planning, written in collaboration with Lawrence P. Smith, which comprised the entire June 1952 issue of PROGRESSIVE ARCHITECTURE; and a traveling exhibition, "The Shopping Center of Tomorrow," created for the American Federation of Arts and shown in leading museums throughout the United States and abroad.

WRITING

The bar chart contains information about the amount of money spent on different types of advertising by two companies.

1 Look at the bar chart and discuss these questions with a partner.

- What does the bar chart show?
- What currency is used?
- How many companies are there?
- Which types of advertising are being compared?
- On which type did the companies spend the most money?
- On which type did the companies spend the least money?
- On which types did Acme spend more or less than Famous?

2 Read Model 1 below. Check your answers to the questions.

Model 1

The bar chart shows the respective amounts of money in thousands of dollars spent on different types of advertising by two companies — Acme and Famous. Overall, Acme spent more on advertising than Famous. Both companies spent the most money on television promotion, with Acme spending $250,000, while Famous spent $200,000. Acme spent the second highest amount on newspaper advertising, at $125,000, whereas Famous spent only $75,000 on this type. In contrast, Famous spent twice as much on the Internet as Acme, at $100,000 and $50,000 respectively. Both companies spent the least money on billboard promotion, at about $25,000 each.

Essential Grammar

Comparison and contrast: comparatives and superlatives with nouns and adjectives

In English, we use the comparative and superlative forms of adjectives to compare two or more things. They are very important for Task 1 of the IELTS Writing test.

Examples

Acme has a bigger advertising budget than Famous.

Best spent the largest amount of money on sports sponsorship.

We put more, less, the most, or the least in front of adjectives with two or more syllables.

Example

Billboard advertising is the least expensive.

We can use more, less/fewer, the most, or the least/fewest in front of nouns.

Examples

Acme spent less money on newspaper advertising than it did on magazine advertising. (Less/least with uncountable nouns)

Awesome has fewer expenses than Acme. (Fewer/fewest with plural nouns)

8 Fill in the gaps, using comparatives and superlatives and the words in brackets.

- Acme spent $250,000 on TV advertising. Famous spent $200,000 on TV advertising. Therefore, Acme spent _____ Famous on TV advertising. (money)
- Awesome spent 150 hours doing market research. Best spent 500 hours doing market research. Therefore, Awesome spent _____ Best doing market research. (time)
- Acme's budget is _____ than Famous's. (big)
- Awesome spends _____ on sports scholarships, because it wants to encourage young people to do sport. (money on charities)
- In general, small companies advertise _____ in the newspaper _____ on the net, because they have _____ money. (more, less)
- The _____ form of promotion worldwide is TV. (effective)
- The _____ type of advertising is the free local newspaper. (expensive) Another way of saying this is it is the _____ type. (cheap)
- Acme has ten billboards. Ace has eleven. Bazic has five billboards. In other words, Bazic has _____ billboards. (few)

9 Read Model 1 again. Find and mark all the comparing words and decide which things are being compared.

Quantifying differences

It is important to have a variety of ways to talk about numbers.

Examples

Acme — $10,000 Best — $2,000

→ Acme spent five times as much as Best on advertising.

Best — 10 charities Acme — 5 charities

→ Best sponsored twice as many charities as Best.

Use much with uncountable nouns and many with plural countable nouns.

10 Find and mark the 'quantifying phrases' in Model 1.

Apply the Grammar You Have Learned!

Talk about the different amounts of time that people spend doing different things in their day. Write a paragraph using the comparing words contrasting the amounts of time people spend: studying, doing sport, eating, sleeping, etc.

Language Focus — Linking ideas: contrasting ideas

Here are some linking words for talking about differences.

- while, whereas (used to link two sentences together)
- Conversely, In contrast (used at the beginning of the second sentence)

Examples

Acme spent most of its budget on in-store promotions, while Famous spent most of its money on television commercials and competitions.

Acme changed its style of advertising, whereas Famous kept with the old style.

Acme increased the amount of money it spent on advertising. Conversely, Famous reduced its advertising budget.

Sports sponsorship was a popular type of promotion for the larger companies. In contrast, charities did not get so much money.

12 Read Model 1 again and mark the linking words that show contrast.
