D Reading

Sam Green is from the UK, but he works at a centre for sick animals in Mexico. He loves his job working with animals and his days are never the same.

Sam gets up early every day and goes running before he has breakfast. In the morning, he visits all the animals in their homes to give them their food. Then he goes to his office and works on his computer. In the afternoon, after he has lunch, Sam teaches people about the animals. Visitors can come to the centre and see the amazing parrots, monkeys and other Mexican animals. Some of the parrots are very friendly and the visitors chat with them. There are lots of animals in the centre, but Sam's favourite are the monkeys.

When he isn't at work, Sam writes books about animals for children and listens to music. He also goes cycling with his son, Paul.
