

1.To run a Program	a. The process of storing data or information on a device or in a system so that it can be retrieved and used later
2.To install	b. Refers to the action of removing data, files, or information from a computer, device, or system
3. To browse	c. Refers to the process of carrying out or performing a set of instructions or commands, typically within a computer program or system
4. To update	d. refers to the process of transferring data or files from a local device, such as a computer or smartphone, to a remote system, server, or online platform
5. To save	e. refers to the act of navigating through web pages or files and folders
6. To back up	f. the action of accessing or starting a file, application, or program on a computer or device
7. delete	g. refers to the action of organizing, storing, or saving documents, data, or information in a structured manner for easy retrieval and management
8. open	h. refers to the process of setting up or arranging the parameters and settings of a system, application, or device to meet specific requirements or preferences
9. execute	i. Installing software entails transferring the program files from a source (such as a CD, USB drive, or download from the internet) to the computer's storage
10. Configure	j. refers to the process of transferring data from a remote system, such as a server or the internet, to a local device, such as a computer or smartphone
11. to file	k. refers to the process of creating copies of data or files to protect them from loss, corruption, or damage.
12.to download	L. the process of modifying or enhancing software, hardware, or systems to improve their functionality, security, or compatibility. It involves replacing older versions with newer
13: to upload	M To execute a program or application in the  LIVEWORKSHEETS