

The overpopulation in such a metropolis like Hanoi has led to serious traffic problems. Citizens often (1) get stuck in heavy traffic that they might be late for work. The increasing number of private vehicles, of which motorbikes (2) take up the biggest number, has made streets (3) crowded with people. This not only causes people time but also brings negative effects to the environment when the air is filled up with exhaust fumes. There are several methods that can be done by individuals to avoid traffic when (4) going to work, including (5) sharing cars and (6) leaving early to make it on time. The government should also take actions by (7) improving the public transport system in order to (8) reduce vehicles on streets

