The Trip to Paris

Instructions: Highlight the phrases showing agreement and disagreement

Emma: Hi Jack! Are you excited about our trip to Paris?

Jack: Hi Emma! Yes, I can't wait. When should we go?

Emma: How about the end of September? The weather will be nice.

Jack: I don't think it is a good idea. Fashion week is something I want to experience. Maybe we can compromise and go in the middle of the month? We should book our flights and hotel soon. Where should we stay?

Emma: Let's stay in the Marais district. It has many nice cafes and shops.

Jack: Great idea! I will look for hotels there. Should we book a hotel or an Airbnb?

Emma: A hotel might be easier. We can find one with breakfast included.

Jack: Good plan. I will search for hotels with good reviews. What about our visa?

Emma: Yes, we need a visa for France. We should apply soon.

Jack: I will check the visa requirements online. We need to fill out the application and book an appointment at the embassy.

Emma: And we need to bring our passport, photos, and travel insurance.

Jack: Right, and we need to show our flight and hotel bookings too.

Emma: Okay, I will book the flights. You book the hotel. Then we can apply for the visa.

Jack: Sounds like a plan. What places do you want to see in Paris?

Emma: I want to see the Eiffel Tower, the Louvre, and Notre Dame. And we should walk by the Seine River.

Jack: Definitely not, I will skip the Louvre this time and focus on smaller museums.

Emma: Oh, come on!! The Mona Lisa is a must-see!

Jack: Fine, fine. We can visit the Louvre, but just for a short time. Let's make a list of other museums to check out. And we need to try French food. I want to eat croissants and macarons.

Emma: All right! Maybe, we can take a cooking class to learn how to make French pastries.

Jack: That would be fun! I will find a good class for us.

Emma: Great. We should also have time to just walk around and explore.

Jack: I agree. Paris is a beautiful city. We will find many interesting places.

Emma: I can't wait! I will make a list of places to visit and things to do.

Jack: Hmm, I see your points but I am not sure I agree with you on this. In my opinion, we should do it together so that we can exchange our ideas. Let's finish our plans this weekend and start booking everything.

Emma: Sounds good! This trip will be amazing.

Jack: Yes! Paris, here we come!
