Some people think that everyone has the right to have access to university education, and that governments should make it free for all students no matter what background they have.

To what extent to you agree or disagree with this opinion?

Complete the following essay by using the given words, or providing the correct of the words in brackets.

cultivate	indispensable	prevail	ensure	perspective	opposing
long-lasting	terms	graduates	wise	regardless	imposes

It is ..... (refuse) that education has been playing a(n) .....role in the development of a country. Some hold the view that university education should be free .....of students' financial background. I tend to agree with this opinion, and I will explain why in the upcoming paragraphs.

First and foremost, there is a .....(persuade) argument that free university education can .....that everyone has opportunities to pursue higher education. As a result, this, to a large extent, can promote social equity and help reduce income gap in the society. The benefits of this are .....

Secondly, advocates of this view emphasize that free-access to university studies is highly likely to .....a more .....(educate) workforce. That is primarily because without the concern of tuition fee, students can concentrate on their studies, which .....(evitable) leads to better .....(academy) performance and the increase in the number of highly qualified .....

I do understand why some people have a(n) .....view, saying that university education at no charge potentially..... an intolerable burden of finance on the government. I, however, believe that this is possibly not a .....point of view, especially when its benefits in .....of social equity and qualified labour-force are put into .....

In conclusion, it is true to say that education has been an essential driver in a nation's progress. I am ..... (convince) that it is essential for the government to provide free university education to all individuals, and the merits of this definitely ..... over any possible demerits.

LIVEWORKSHEETS