I get that question a lot. Most of my college friends live in the _____ because they like being around people their own age.

A few of my friends live with their parents. Like me, they want to _____ some money. We don't have to pay for our room or buy furniture. Also, we_____ home-cooked food!

But for me, it's not just about saving money.

Our house has two apartments. My parents, my younger sister, my mother's parents, and I live _____ the first floor. My aunt, my uncle and three cousins live on the second floor. Some people say, "there are_____ many people in your house!" But I don't agree.

First of all, it's fun. We often have parties. I know what you are thinking: parties with your parents and grandparents? Yes - and_____ me, they are funnier and dance better than most college students.

Also, we help each other. I I take care _____ my younger cousins. Everybody _____ cooking and cleaning. If I have a problem, my older family members give me advice. It's great to be around people that care _____ me.
