We're family!

READING

Read for gist

Read the email. Who is the writer? What's the writer's main purpose?

Reply Forward

To:
From:
Subject: Thank you!

Hello Fiona, Mario, Louis, Kenji, and Niko!

I am so happy you were able to celebrate my 90th birthday with me. It was a wonderful day! Special days with all of you always bring back memories. Of course, I missed your grandfather on my birthday. He always loved talking to people.The man lived in three different countries and learned five languages, but he never learned to cook an egg! We raised three wonderful children, and now they've brought you five into the world.

I am looking forward to being here when you have your own kids. Maybe we can have another party when I turn 100!

Love and hugs!

Read for details

Read the email again. What do you learn about the writer's husband and family?

Recall

Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)? Discuss with a partner.

1. The grandma is excited about the future.
2. She is 100 years old.
3. Her husband lived in three countries and spoke five languages.
4. Her husband did the cooking during their marriage.
5. She has three children.
6. She has 15 grandchildren.
7. She has a cheerful personality.

LIVEWORKSHEETS