A curious cat named Whiskers lived in a small house with his owner, Emily. Whiskers loved to explore the garden, chasing butterflies and playing with his favorite toy mouse. One sunny day, Whiskers noticed a strange noise coming from the attic. He tiptoed up the stairs and peeked through a hole in the floor. To his surprise, he saw a family of tiny mice building a nest! Whiskers was so excited. He knew he had to be careful, but he couldn't resist playing with his new neighbors.
