

There is ONE spelling error in each line. CIRCLE the spelling error in each line then WRITE the correct spelling in the box.

1)

Rover, my big hound-dog, stoud up, when he got the smell of the food. The pot was bubbleing on the stove. Rover was waging his tail and his tongue was out of his mouth, drooling. He does that when he's beging for food. I told him to stop being stubborn, but Rover kept howling and crying with sad eyes. "He's a nauty dog!" shouted mummy.

2)

Sam went to the libery to borrow five books. When he arrived, the librarian told him he was oweing ten dollars. Sam did not retern the books he had on time. She told Sam that if he pade half the money and gave back all the overdew books, he may get two books but not five. Sam was dissappointed.