

Complete the sentences below by filling in the blanks with the correct quantifier from the list: much, many, a lot of, a few, a little, some, any, enough.

1. We don't have _____ time to finish this project. We need to work faster.
2. There are _____ new employees starting next month, so we'll to train them.
3. Could you send me _____ more details about the budget before the meeting?
4. We've received _____ complaints from customers about the new product.
5. Do we have _____ coffee in the kitchen for the meeting?
6. There isn't _____ money left in the marketing budget. We need to make some cuts.
7. The team has _____ idea to improve the process, but we need to explore them further.
8. We have _____ chairs in the meeting room, but not enough for everyone.

FINE & FLOW

www.fineandflow.com

 LIVEWORKSHEETS

Read the business conversation below. Choose the correct quantifier to complete each blank. You can use: many, much, a few, a lot of, some, any, enough.

Manager: How's the marketing campaign going? Have we received _____ feedback from the client yet?

Employee: Yes, they've provided _____ suggestions to improve the campaign. They don't have _____ complaints, just a few minor changes.

Manager: That's good to hear. I hope we have _____ time to implement those changes before the deadline.

Employee: I think so. We still have _____ budget left, so we should be able to make adjustments without spending too _____ money.

Manager: Perfect. And how about the team? Do we have people to handle the workload?

Employee: Yes, there are _____ new interns who can help out, so we should be fine.