Sentence or Fragment?

sentence = 1 complete idea complete = has at least 2 parts: someone/thing AND do/be fragment = broken piece sentence fragment = broken piece of a sentence sentence fragment = missing someone or something OR do or be

These are fragments.
Add the missing parts to make complete sentences.

Working fast to get the car ready for the race.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

The famous race car driver wearing sunglasses.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

Almost killed in a terrible car crash.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

At the race track, thousands of fans.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

Review: A complete sentence has 2 parts: _____ AND _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

The happy winner of the long race.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

Need very thick, slick tires to grip the track.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

Fix the complicated engine of a fast race car.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

The strong helmet and special fire suit.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

In the old days, race cars.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

Are slanted, never flat, to keep cars on the ground.
What's missing? _____
Complete sentence: _____
_____

Review: A sentence is one _____ _____. "Complete" means the sentence has at least ___ parts. The first part is _____ . The second part is _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS