

THE GAME

Boodunnit

The village of Boonkle was a peaceful, quiet, and remarkably crime-free place, until one fateful Tuesday when florist and ex-detective Julia Lawson abruptly died under mysterious circumstances. Bummer.

Now in the form of a ghost, her naturally curious character compels her to figure out how she died. Besides, if she doesn't, she won't be able to move on to the afterlife.

Together with her sister Emmie, the two Lawson sisters must work together to solve the mystery from both sides of life, and learn to let each other go along the way.

Put the missing nouns and verbs in the sentences.

1. I've got two _____. Their names are Mary and Aimee.
2. My friend works at the shop with flowers. She's a _____.
3. Sherlock Holmes was interested in solving crimes. He worked as a _____.
4. Our grandmother _____ a year ago, she was 71. We all miss her very much.
5. You are as pale as a _____! What happened? What scared you so bad?
6. I can't _____ how to do this homework myself. I think I need help.
7. Careful! You are driving at the wrong _____ of the road. It's England!
8. Sherlock Holmes was a famous detective whose work was to _____ crimes.
9. What is this _____? It is Red Square! Look how big it is!
10. Could you _____ your hand from my purse? It's not yours to touch.
11. Julia died under very mysterious _____.

Tell a story about mysterious thing that happened to you.

Don't forget to use the words from the text!

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....