

refers to the sophisticated technology that enables machines to mimic human intelligence, allowing them to make decisions, solve problems, and learn from data. A _____ is a device that is used to perform a specific function or task, often one that is innovative and ingenious, and a _____ is a type of electronic gadget capable of connecting and sending information to other devices via the internet or other wireless protocols.

Many people worry that [CENSORED] will soon replace their jobs.

Joe's always buying new [CENSORED] that he claims will make his life easier. [CENSORED] enable us to communicate with others wherever we happen to be. _____ are electronics that can be worn on a person's body. A .

_____ is a type of [CENSORED] that a person wears over their eyes, which allows them to experience images and sounds produced by a computer as if they were part of real life, and a .

These days, most [CENSORED] is comfortable and easy to wear.

When I put on the [CENSORED] , it was as though I'd entered a futuristic world. _____ [CENSORED] _____ are becoming more popular than other types of games.

_____ is any program, application, or software that can be freely downloaded without payment, and an _____ is an organization , thatan organization that provides its customers with services for accessing and using the internet It's [CENSORED], so it won't cost you a penny. _____ in their businesses or homes.

I'd been experiencing poor reception for days, so I called my [CENSORED] . A _____ is a type of website that enables you to search for content available on the internet, whereas a _____ is an application that you use for internet searches that can also track your browsing history.

Google is my favorite [CENSORED] I don't use any others. I don't always use the same [CENSORED]. I use Google Chrome, Firefox, or Safari. A _____ is the place where all the data from a website is stored. It also processes and sends this data to people's devices when they look at that website. _____ is the practice of protecting servers, computers, social network accounts, and other systems from malicious cyber-attacks.

Our [CENSORED] has thousands of videos, so we use a server with a lot of disk space.

With internet crimes on the rise, [CENSORED] is essential. An _____ is a program on your phone or computer that does a certain job, like a game, a music or photography app, etc. The most popular [CENSORED] on our phones are social network [CENSORED] like Facebook, Twitter, etc. A _____ is an app or website where you can connect with friends, share pictures, and communicate with each other. The term _____ refers to a broader range of platforms where users create, share, and interact with content, I've downloaded a cool [CENSORED] to track my gym workouts.

I rely on [CENSORED] like Facebook to promote my business. A _____ is an internet access point that enables you to connect to a WiFi network using your smartphone, laptop, or another device, and a _____ is a photo or image of what can be seen on the screen of a computer or other device at any given time. I used the cafe's [CENSORED] to send my emails.

I sent Tom a [CENSORED] of the diagram on my screen.

gadget	server
Wearable technology	smart device
web browser	freeware
screenshot	WiFi hotspot
Social media	search engine
AI	cybersecurity
VR (virtual reality) headset	app
ISP	social network