Hi Charlotte,

As I told you in my last email, I'm doing a concert tour of Britain. The tour is going very well. Last night we played in Manchester. There were lots of young people in the audience, which was cool. The problem is schoolwork. I ¹ get permission from the head teacher to go on tour. I ² neglect my studies because next year I want to go to university.

I ³ study and do homework when I'm not playing. I ⁴ send my Maths homework to my teacher before the end of the week and I ⁵ be late. The problem is that I'm really tired. Touring is nice, but it's tiring. There are some advantages: I ⁶ get up at seven o'clock or wear my school uniform.

Anyway, I ⁷ go now. We ⁸ do a sound check in ten minutes.

Best wishes,

Rick
