3. Choose the correct preposition to complete the text

Last summer, I visited Italy for holidays. When I (1) arrived in/at Rome, I was very excited. The trip was a bit expensive, but it was worth it. I had to (2) pay for/in flights, hotels, and food. Luckily, I didn't have to (3) worry with/about transport because the city has great buses and trains.

I (4) spent money in/on many things, like visiting the Colosseum and enjoying pizza and pasta. I even spoke Italian when (5) asking for/with directions, which was fun. (6) Depending on/at the weather, I visited different parts of the city. Sometimes I just walked around and discovered new places. Italy is indeed a beautiful place to visit. I completely (7) agree with/for people who says that Italy is a beautiful place to go.
