

Reading

Read and draw conclusions

The dog wagged its tail and ran to the door when it heard the sound of keys jingling.

What can you conclude?

- a) The dog is hungry.
 - b) The dog wants to go outside.
 - c) The dog recognizes someone is coming home.
-

Tom looked out the window and saw snow covering the ground. He grabbed his coat and gloves before heading outside.

What can you conclude?

- a) Tom is going to the beach.
 - b) Tom is going outside to play in the snow.
 - c) Tom doesn't like the snow.
-

As soon as the bell rang, the students quickly packed their bags and rushed to the door.

What can you conclude?

- a) It's the end of the school day.
- b) The students are late for class.
- c) The students are going on a field trip.

Sara's face turned red, and she looked down at her feet as the teacher asked her a question.

What can you conclude?

- a) Sara is happy.
 - b) Sara is embarrassed or nervous.
 - c) Sara is tired.
-

The lights flickered, and the sound of thunder echoed through the house.

What can you conclude?

- a) There's a storm outside.
 - b) It's time to go to sleep.
 - c) It's a sunny day.
-

Jenna's hands were shaking, and her heart was racing as she waited for her turn to give the presentation.

What can you conclude?

- a) Jenna is feeling calm.
 - b) Jenna is excited about her presentation.
 - c) Jenna is nervous about her presentation.
-

ORTEGA Y GASSET

Mark looked up at the scoreboard and saw the clock ticking down with only 10 seconds left. He quickly passed the ball to his teammate.

What can you conclude?

- a) The game is almost over.
 - b) The game just started.
 - c) Mark is winning the game.
-

The car wouldn't start, and James realized he had left the headlights on all night.

What can you conclude?

- a) The car ran out of gas.
- b) The car's battery is dead
- c) The car needs new tires.