

Computer Hardware

Draw a line from the picture of the hardware to what it does.

	You can point, click and double-click.
	You can type letters and numbers.
	You can see what's on the screen.
	It processes the data entered into the computer.
	You can scan documents or pictures and put them into your computer.
	You can speak and put sounds into the computer.
	You can hear the sounds coming from the computer.
	You can get a copy of what is on the computer.
	You can see your picture on the screen.