

An Aimsir

Aistrigh go Gaeilge:

The weather is lovely. It will be sunny today.

The sun is splitting the rocks. I would like to sunbathe.

The weather is bad. It will be cold and pouring rain tonight.

There will be thunder, lightning and floods tonight.

It was a glorious day and I was sunbathing on the beach.

It was pouring rain and he was soaked to the skin!

It was a cold, wet, miserable day and I was frozen with the cold.

It will be cold, wet and windy tomorrow. I will wear warm clothes.

It was a foggy, drizzly morning and then it started sleeting.

It was a very humid day and I was killed with the heat! (marbh leis an teas)
