When are bikes better?

In the 1990s bike sharing started in cities all around the world. Bikes were often _____(fast) than buses for travelling around the city. Bikes were also _____(clean) for cities than cars, but were they _____ (good) for people? We spoke to one city worker, Sergio. When it started, it was great. The bike was _____(quick) than the metro and it took me _____ (near) to my office. My travel time was_____ (short)than before and the journey to work was_____(interesting). Then winter came. "I didn't enjoy winter. Of course the journey was _____ (difficult) than before. It was _____(bad), so the journey felt_____ (dangerous). Sometimes the bikes weren't in the correct place and I felt stressed when I arrived at work". Now Sergio wants to know about the city's new electric bikes. "People say they are_____ (safe) and _____(easy) to ride than the old bikes." Maybe next summer? "Maybe!" he says.
