To find some other band members, I posted messages online and put up a (3) _____ posters round my school. Lots of people replied, saying there were really interested (4) _____ joining. It took weeks for me to meet them all and choose my bandmates.

Anyway, (5) _____ are now five of us in the band, and we've called ourselves Plan D. We've practiced loads and have entered a local competition called Battle of the Bands. It's on next week and I can't wait to take (6) _____ - my brother's band are entering the competition too.
