Trustworthy Choice Board

Defining Trustworthiness: Write your own definition of trustworthiness. Think of someone you trust and describe what they do that makes them trustworthy.	Being Honest: Write about why honesty is an important part of being trustworthy. Think of a time when being honest helped you build trust with someone else.	Keeping Promises: Think about a promise you made to someone. Write about why keeping promises is important for being trustworthy and how it feels when someone keeps a promise to you.	Trust and Responsibility: Write about how being responsible is connected to trustworthiness. Give an example of how you can be responsible to show you are trustworthy.
Building Trust: Write about how you can build trust with a new friend or classmate. Include actions like being honest, keeping their secrets, and showing respect.	Apologizing When Needed: Write about a time when you made a mistake that affected someone else's trust in you. Reflect on how apologizing and making things right can help rebuild trust.	Trustworthiness in Teams: Write about how being trustworthy is important when working on a team or group project. Think about how teammates rely on each other to be honest and dependable.	Handling Secrets: Write about a time when someone trusted you with a secret. Reflect on why it's important to keep that secret to show trustworthiness.
Being True to Your Building Trust: Write about how you can build trust with a new friend or classmate. Include actions like being honest, keeping their secrets, and showing respect.	Reflecting on Broken Apologizing When Needed: Write about a time when you made a mistake that affected someone else's trust in you. Reflect on how apologizing and making things right can help rebuild trust.	Trustworthiness in Trustworthiness in Teams: Write about how being trustworthy is important when working on a team or group project. Think about how teammates rely on each other to be honest and dependable.	Daily Acts of Handling Secrets: Write about a time when someone trusted you with a secret. Reflect on why it's important to keep that secret to show trustworthiness.
Creating a Trustworthiness Poster: Design a poster that shows what it means to be trustworthy. Include words or phrases like "honesty," "dependability," and "integrity."	Trustworthiness in Friendships: Write about how you can show trustworthiness to your friends. Think about how being reliable and supportive makes you a better friend.	Earning Trust: Write about how someone earns your trust over time. What qualities do they need to show? Reflect on how you can earn trust from others in the same way.	Reflecting on Trustworthiness: Think about a person who has shown great trust in you, like a parent, teacher, or coach. Write a letter thanking them for their trust and how you plan to continue being worthy of it.

© http://worksheetplace.com

LIVEWORKSHEETS