

Instructions: Read the paragraph and identify the types of sentences (simple, compound, complex, compound-complex). Write down at least one example of each type from the passage.

Maria loves to read books, especially during rainy afternoons. She finds them comforting because they remind her of her childhood. Her father, who was a teacher, always encouraged her to read. Maria read every book she could find, and soon, she started writing her own stories. Now, she is an author, and she writes novels in her spare time. When she has a new idea, she quickly jots it down so she won't forget."

Simple sentence:

Compound Sentence:

Complex Sentence:

Compound-Complex Sentence: