

Read about five people who work on eco-projects in a national park. Match the jobs with the texts.

an artisan – an environmental police officer – an indigenous leader – a park ranger – a walking guide

Eco-projects

1. I've worked in a national park since 2013. In my job, I share my knowledge about the geology of the park, its plant life, wildlife and natural habitats. I love talking to people and it's great to work outside in a beautiful environment.

2. The park has been our home for hundreds of years. We have a kiosk in the park where visitors can learn about our culture. We work with the local authorities, advising them on decisions that are both eco-friendly, and benefit our community.

3. One of our most important jobs is to protect the wildlife. The turtles' eggs are valuable, and in the past, people used to steal and sell them. There are warning signs, which remind people that there are strict punishments if people ignore the laws.

4. My job is to check that everyone is looking after the park, putting their rubbish in the bins, keeping to the footpaths and respecting the wildlife. I work with a team of people, and we regularly talk to visitors and make sure that the information and facilities available to them are useful.

5. I come to the park every day to sell my products to visitors. I also give workshops to local people about how to make handicrafts from local, sustainable materials.

