

Mad Libs
Future Simple Will

Name: _____

In the year 2050, you will visit a [place] and meet a very [adjective] fortune teller. She will look into her [noun] and make some incredible predictions about your future. First, she will predict that you will [verb] on a [adjective] [noun]. Then, she will tell you that in a few years, you will discover a [noun] that will change the world. But that's not all! You will become famous for your [adjective] [plural noun], and people will ask for your autograph whenever you [verb].

The fortune teller will also say that you will find yourself living in a [adjective] [place], where you will own a [adjective] [animal]. She will even predict that your best friend will start a [noun] business, and you will help them by [verb ending in -ing] every weekend.

Finally, she will laugh and say, "One day, you will win a [noun] competition and everyone will call you [adjective]!"

You will leave the [place] feeling both [emotion] and [emotion]. What a strange future you will have!