1 Read and write the names next to the correct person.

Dear Annie,

I recently read about how the Native Americans gave names to places and how these names meant something in their language. For example, Kansas means 'people of the south wind', Ohio means 'beautiful river' and Michigan means 'big lake'. I thought this sounded fun, so I decided to use the idea and do a 'translation' of some of my friends' names.

I've decided that David means 'boy of great height'. See how it works? Here are some more examples:

Ana – girl with a lot of energy

James – friend of the animals

Lucy – girl with windows in front of her eyes

Trevor – boy with wheels under his feet.

I had loads of fun doing this and I don't think I upset any of my friends. Have a go!

Love Beth
