What's Going On This Month?

EMILY STEVENS – November 10

Last year was hard, but my life is great [1]today / at the moment. I'm [2]currently / at the moment spending a lot of time studying, and my friend is visiting for a few days [3]today / right now. [4]At the moment / these days she's out shopping – she loves staying here near the mall. It is raining [5]today / these days, so it's a good day for shopping. My father is away [6]these days / at the moment on a business trip, and [7]right now / these days my mother is sleeping, so the house is quiet – it's easy to study. I'm really enjoying my college course [8]at the moment / today, because this semester we are learning about Japan, which I love.
