Intelligent homes

Our homes have become much smarter lately. We now live in houses which contain <sup>1</sup> devices that make our lives easier and more entertaining, and in the future, they will do even more.

There's good news for those who hate shopping. In the past, fridges were just somewhere cold to <sup>2</sup> your food. It may sound <sup>3</sup>, but very soon intelligent refrigerators will be able to automatically generate a shopping list. Then they will arrange a door-to-door <sup>4</sup> to your home.

Televisions have gone through the most <sup>5</sup> changes recently. We can now use voice control to pause what we're watching and <sup>6</sup> through a list of available channels. And it seems very likely that soon our TVs will be able to tell from the <sup>7</sup> on your face how you are feeling. Then they will offer suggestions of what to watch based on your <sup>8</sup>.

Smart showers now offer personalized water flow and a temperature control for each adult family member with additional parental control – perfect for <sup>9</sup> with teenagers who stay too long in the bathroom!

Mobile phones and the Internet have already become an important part of our daily routine. It's very <sup>10</sup> that technology will soon control every aspect of our lives, from our diet to the settings of our electric toothbrush.
