Read the following text:

Two years ago, Emily and her friend Sarah decided to take a trip across Europe during the summer holidays. They planned to visit six different countries: France, Germany, Italy, Spain, the Netherlands, and Greece. Their journey began in Paris, where they spent a few days exploring famous landmarks like the Eiffel Tower and the Louvre Museum. Emily was amazed by the beautiful art and architecture. In Germany, they visited Berlin and took a historical tour that covered important sites from World War II. Sarah, who loved history, found it fascinating.

Next, they traveled to Italy, where they enjoyed delicious pasta and pizza in Rome. They also visited the Colosseum, and Emily tried her first gelato, which she loved. In Spain, they stayed in Barcelona, exploring the works of the architect Gaudí, especially the Sagrada Familia. Sarah was particularly excited to visit the beach in Barcelona, as she loved swimming in the sea.

Their fifth destination was Amsterdam in the Netherlands. They visited the Anne Frank House, which moved them both deeply, and spent time cycling around the canals. Finally, they reached Greece, where they explored ancient ruins in Athens and relaxed on the beautiful beaches of Santorini. By the end of the trip, they felt incredibly grateful for all the experiences and memories they had made. The trip taught them to appreciate different cultures, foods, and histories.
