NAMES AND PRONOUNS 1

Once upon a time there was a boy named Jack. [1] _____. Then he died.

Choose one of these sentences to go in gap [1]:

A - He ate all the chocolate in London.

B - Their house was on a hill.

NAMES AND PRONOUNS 2

The documentary featured interviews with many of top scientists. [2] _____. But the story was not funny, and many viewers complained about its depressing ending.

A - It was watched by 8 million people.

B - One was Simon Baron-Cohen, brother of the famous comedian.

CONTRASTING PHRASES

We've seen an example of 'but'. Here's another one:

At first, the show was not popular. [3] _____.

A - However, in 2014 more people watched it every week and it ended the year as the number 1 show in America.
B - In 2014 more people watched it every week and it ended the year as the number 1 show in America.

TIME PHRASES

In the so-called Golden Age of Hollywood, actors and actresses were tied to one-sided contracts. [4] _____.

A - These days, however, they are free to choose projects that interest them.
B - More movies are now made in India than in Los Angeles.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

QUOTATION MARKS

But there was more to his performance than scoring the winning goal. He also motivated his younger teammates.
'[5]_____.'

A - He had become a true leader.
B - I felt like I was on top of the world.

LIVEWORKSHEETS