

Narrative Essay (Story): An Unlucky Day

walking	decided	splashed
indoors	umbrella	reached

On a beautiful Saturday morning, I _____ to walk to the library. A section of pavement (路面) I was on was closed. There was nothing for it but to walk under the ladder. Unbeknownst (不为人知的) to me, that started off my series of bad luck that day.

When I _____ the library, I discovered the book I had borrowed was overdue. I had to fork out (不情愿地付出) RM 2.00 for a late return. Then as I was _____ to my favourite stall for lunch, it started to pour. Having no _____, I was drenched (湿透的) .

To top it all, a passing car _____ water all over me. Fed up of the day I was having, I decided to go back and stay _____ for the rest of the day.

List out all the unlucky incident happened in the narrative essay above

Example: 1. A section of pavement I was on was closed.

2. There was nothing for it but to walk under the ladder.

No.	Unlucky moments
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.	