

Susan's trip

She begins her journey by flying to Iceland, a land known for its volcanoes and stunning landscapes. Upon arrival, she rents a bike and explores the rugged paths, eventually discovering a small pond near a valley. The air is fresh, and she can see mountains in the distance.

Her next destination is the Netherlands, where she sees countless windmills while biking through flat landscapes. She stops at a bench near a river to rest and enjoy the view. Later, she visits a castle with a tall tower, overlooking the peaceful countryside.

From there, she travels to Egypt to experience the vast desert. She rides in a truck through the dunes and marvels at the endless sand. The next day, she reaches the coast and stands on a pier, looking out at the rocks and cliffs along the coastline.

Her final stop is Thailand, where she visits an island filled with lush forests. A short hike leads her to a stunning waterfall, where she feels the mist on her face and relaxes in the peaceful surroundings. The journey blends natural beauty and cultural landmarks perfectly.

Susan's trip

Answer the questions

- Where does her journey begin?

- What does she find near a valley in Iceland?

- What can she see in the distance while exploring Iceland?

- Which country does she visit after Iceland?

- What does she see a lot of in the Netherlands?

- Where does she rest in the Netherlands?

- Where does she travel after the Netherlands?

- How does she travel through the desert in Egypt?

- What does she see along the coastline in Egypt?

- What is her final stop?

- What does she visit on an island in Thailand?

- Where does she feel the mist on her face in Thailand?
