

- 1. A bar graph is useful for comparing different categories of data in a presentation.
- 2. A line graph is the best choice for showing changes over time in a presentation.
- 3. A pie chart is ideal for showing the distribution of ages in a population.
- 4. A scatter plot is used to display individual data points and show relationships between two variables.
- 5. Histograms are used to compare sales between different products.