Match the words with their meaning:

abyssal zone	the bottom ocean zone, which receives no sunlight.
aphotic zone	a middle zone which receives very little sunlight and contains no plants and a few animals.
disphotic zone	the top zone which contains almost all of the ocean's life.
ephotic zone	the part of the aphotic zone that includes the deep ocean zone.
anemones	cracks in the seafloor; long ditches.
bioluminescence	cracks in Earth's crust along which movements occur.
faults	plant-like, marine animals whose tentacles often look like flower petals.
phytoplankton	the light or the emission of light created by biochemical process within a living thing.
zooplankton	single-celled algae that lives in a body of water.
trenches	microscopic animals that live in a body of water.

LIVEWORKSHEETS