

Related Phrases and Idioms

- "Bend the truth" – slightly change the truth.
- "Fib" – a small, harmless lie.
- "Pull the wool over someone's eyes" – deceive someone.
- "A little white lie" – a harmless or trivial lie, especially one told to avoid hurting someone's feelings.
- "The whole truth and nothing but the truth" – being completely honest.
- "The naked truth" – the plain and unembellished truth.
- "Stretching the truth" – making something sound better or worse than it really is.
- "Truth be told" – used to admit something honestly.
- "Lying through your teeth" – telling a blatant lie without shame.
- "Tell a tall tale" – telling an exaggerated or unbelievable story.

Fill-in-the-Gaps Exercise: Idioms about Truth and Lies

Complete the sentences below using idioms:

1. Sometimes, people tell _____ to avoid hurting someone's feelings.
2. When asked about his weekend, he couldn't resist _____ to make it sound more exciting.
3. I could tell she was _____ when she said she'd finished all the work; it didn't make sense.
4. He admitted he told a small _____ when he said he didn't remember her birthday—it wasn't completely forgotten.

5. If you keep _____, people will eventually find out the truth.
6. She thought she could _____ by pretending she knew all the answers, but her boss caught on quickly.
7. _____, I wasn't sure if the plan would work, but I went along with it anyway.
8. The witness swore to tell _____ in court.
9. Kids love to _____ about the adventures they've been on, even if they're made up.
10. It's not easy to face _____ when it's something you don't want to hear.