Reading Passage:

My family and I love going on nature hikes together during weekends. There's a large forest near our town with many trails to explore and enjoy. Every Saturday, we pack a small lunch and plenty of water, then head to the forest to spend a few hours hiking. My dad always encourages us to look around carefully and appreciate the beauty of nature. We often see different animals like squirrels and birds along the way.

Last weekend, we even found a hidden waterfall that we had never seen before. It was a fantastic experience, and we spent some time taking photos and enjoying the peaceful sound of the water. After each hike, we stop at a small café in town for a snack and talk about what we saw during our walk.
