Task 2: Read and write True / False

Pizza is one of the most popular foods in the world. People of all ages enjoy eating pizza because it is delicious and easy to share. But do you know where pizza comes from?

Pizza was first made in Naples, Italy, more than 1,000 years ago. At that time, pizza was a simple flatbread with tomatoes, olive oil, and herbs. Poor people ate it because it was cheap and easy to make. Over time, pizza became more popular, and chefs began adding different ingredients like cheese, meat, and vegetables. In 1889, a famous pizza called Margherita was created. It was made with tomatoes, mozzarella cheese, and basil to represent the colors of the Italian flag: red, white, and green. This pizza was made for Queen Margherita of Italy, and it became very famous.

Today, there are many types of pizza. In America, people love pizza with pepperoni and lots of cheese. In Japan, you can find pizza with seafood. In India, you might see pizza with spicy chicken. Every country adds its own unique flavors to this tasty dish.

Pizza brings people together. Whether you eat it with friends at a party or with your family at home, pizza is a food that everyone can enjoy.
