

Hardware - The parts of technology that you can see and touch.

Software - Instructions that tell the technology device what to do.

