I've got a test next week, but I don't need to <sup>1</sup> pass / revise a lot because I usually <sup>2</sup> get / pay attention in class and I can remember a lot of things. I want to be fair, so I never <sup>3</sup> cheat / pass in tests. I know that sometimes I <sup>4</sup> make / get a low mark or even <sup>5</sup> fail / revise a test. But I'm quite sure I'll <sup>6</sup> write / pass the one next week because I love biology.

I don't like essays. I hardly ever <sup>1</sup> read / write an excellent essay. I <sup>2</sup> pass / make mistakes all the time and my teacher has to <sup>3</sup> get / correct them. But I'm good at projects. I can <sup>4</sup> make / do a brilliant project. In class, I sometimes don't <sup>5</sup> pay / make attention and my teacher gets angry. But I never <sup>6</sup> fail / cheat in a test because it isn't fair to look at my friends' tests and copy their answers.

I like tests. Well, some of them. I always <sup>1</sup> _____ for a test a few days earlier because I want to get a good <sup>2</sup> _____. A or B+ are my favourites! I've got a maths test next week. I hate maths. I hope I'll <sup>3</sup> _____ the test. If I <sup>4</sup> _____ the test, my parents will be angry.
