OUR DIGITAL REVOLUTION

There's no question that the <sup>1</sup> _____ (technology) breakthroughs of the first two decades of the 21st century have <sup>2</sup> _____ (revolution) people's day-to-day lives. Arguably, the scientific <sup>3</sup> _____ (achieve) of this short period have been greater than in any other <sup>4</sup> _____ (history) period. TV, radio, paperback novels, landline telephones and letter writing have been replaced by <sup>5</sup> _____ (afford) digital devices our grandparents barely dreamed of. It has been a <sup>6</sup> _____ (create) era, and one that has made life more <sup>7</sup> _____ (enjoy) for many. Of course, rapid change has its downsides. Being constantly connected can cause <sup>8</sup> _____ (anxious) for some people, and it has, arguably, <sup>9</sup> _____ (strength) the ability of big businesses to interfere in our lives. Overall, however, the <sup>10</sup> _____ (possible) that these new technologies bring are incredibly <sup>11</sup> _____ (attract). We are lucky to live in such exciting times.
