

The Frog's Song

I inquire, does the toad croak so loud in the rain? (1)
Won't the storm drown out its song?
Asked Meera, to her granny.

The rain makes the ponds come alive,
A perfect time for toads to thrive! (2)

That's why toads croak with impish delight, said the granny with a chuckle so light. (3)

The toad loves the rain, it's where it belongs,
A place where the creatures all sing their songs! (4)

So when you hear croaks in the wet, rainy night,
It's the toads, singing with all of their might! (5)
