

Use of English PART 1

TASK INFORMATION

- In Part 1, you read a text which has eight gaps (plus one example).
- For each gap, there is a choice of four words or phrases: (A, B, C or D). You need to choose the correct word or phrase to complete each gap.
- The task tests your understanding of the text and your knowledge of vocabulary.
- The gapped word may be part of a collocation (e.g. pay attention), phrasal verb or set phrase.
- Sometimes your choice of a word or words for a gap Will depend on the meaning of the whole text or a large section of the text, and not just the words immediately around the gap.
- Sometimes your choice Will depend on grammatical words that come immediately before or after the gap, such as prepositions. e.g. He objected to the comments.

IDENTIFYING COLLOCATIONS

1. Choose the four correct collocations in the following sets.

1. make a difference / sense / some research / an exception / trouble / damage
2. do your best / the shopping / some changes / a reservation / someone a favour / harm
3. have an experience / an effect / patience / a row / harm / place
4. take word with someone / notice / something for granted / pleasure / a choice / turns
5. put pressure on someone / something into practice / a mess / foot on something / an end to something / your mind to something
6. give a talk / your word / something for granted / credit to someone / use of / someone a chance
7. set an example / a record / an alarm / an excuse / a fuss / fire to something
8. keep a promise / pity on someone / a diary / a secret / in touch / an impact on something

Tip

A collocation is two or more words that often go together. For example: fast food and NOT quick food X; make a cup of tea and NOT do a cup of tea X. When words collocate, they sound natural together. If they don't collocate, they sound unnatural together.

Tip

If you're not sure whether words collocate, you can look them up in learners' dictionaries and in collocation dictionaries.

Tip

When you practise doing Part 1 tasks, keep a record of any collocations that are new to you

2. Choose one of the collocations from Exercise 1 to complete each sentence.

1. Last year, Amy _____ for the fastest-ever 1500 metres run by a student at her school.
2. 'Will you _____ that you won't tell anyone else about this?' Sarah asked Philip.
3. After Sachiko moved back to Japan from Los Angeles, she _____ with her friend Ana by email.

Tip

There are several different types of collocations, e.g. verb + noun (make a mistake); noun verb (dogs bark); adjective + noun (heavy rain);

"Doing ordinary things in an extraordinary way"

4. Last year, I _____ with my neighbour because his motorbike was blocking my front gate, and we didn't speak to each other again for ages.
5. Maria and Pawel _____ to cook the dinner; Maria does it one day and Pawel does it the next.
6. Whenever Jim really _____ learning something new, he usually succeeds.
7. 'Robbie, could you _____, please? Could you help me fix my bike?' asked Michael.
8. Kate _____ to get her students to work hard but some of them didn't pay much attention to her.

adverb + adjective (fully aware).

3. Choose the correct adverb (A, B, C or D) to complete each gap.

1. Camille was ... disappointed when she only came third in the 800 metre race.
A sharply B bitterly C fiercely D crossly
2. Cliff was ... moved by the sad story that his grandmother told him.
A soundly B heavily C widely D deeply
3. The decision to build a new bridge across the river was ... controversial.
A solidly B firmly C highly D strongly
4. The local newspaper played a ... important role in the campaign against poor air quality.
A vitally B chiefly C completely D principally
5. House prices in the capital City are ... high.
A vastly B hugely C extremely D greatly
6. Public transport in the region is ... subsidised by the government, so fares are low.

7. Advice on how to invest your savings is much more ... available than it used to be.
A thoroughly B largely C widely D highly
8. Research suggests that regular exercise and a feeling of being happy are ... linked.
A nearly B finely C exactly D closely

UNDERSTANDING THE PRECISE MEANING OF WORDS

Choose the correct option (A, B, C or D) to complete each gap.

1. Young people in my region used to feel cut off from other young people, but this changed with the ... of social media.
A design B issue C arrival D result
2. Environmental research shows that much more should be done to ... certain species in the local area which are regarded as endangered.
A overcome B protect C expose D control
3. It's ... what the key is to achieving success in this type of business. No one seems to know.
A unbelievable B unfair C unclear D undeniable
4. I took part in a very interesting psychological experiment. I was one of about 100 ... of various ages and backgrounds.
A members B participants C players D entrants

Tip

Part 1 questions often test understanding of the exact meanings of words rather than knowledge of collocations.
e.g. The shop manager is concerned about the way her staff are noticed / impressed/ treated by certain customers, many of whom can be very rude. Staff can be noticed, impressed and treated by customers, so all three words are acceptable collocations. However, many of whom can

5. My brother was on the... of joining the police force, but then he changed his mind.

A edge B border C line D point be very rude indicates that the sentence is about the customers' behaviour, so treated is the correct option in this sentence.

ACTION PLAN

1. Look at the title and think about what the subject of the text will be.
2. Read the whole text quickly to get a general idea of the topic.
3. Look carefully at the words before and after each gap. Is there a word you can think of that would fit the gap?
4. Look carefully at the options for each question and eliminate those you know are incorrect.
5. The options have similar meanings, so you need to choose the word that combines with the words on either side of the gap.
6. Sometimes only one option is correct grammatically, so look closely at words such as prepositions before or after the gap.
7. If you get stuck on one question, move on to the next one. You may have a better idea if you go back to it after you have completed the whole text.
8. When you have chosen an answer for every gap, read through the text again and make sure that each word makes sense in the context of the text as a whole.

Follow the exam instructions, using the advice to help you.

- A. For questions 1 - 8, read the text below and decide which answer (A, B, C, or D) best fits each gap. There is an example at the beginning (0). Mark your answers on the separate answer sheet.

EXAMPLE: 0 A suppose B picture C conceive D presume

Would you rather win a silver or bronze medal?
Try to (0) yourself as an athlete in an Olympic event. We can (1) assume you'd want to win, and, if that wasn't possible, you'd prefer to (2) up second rather than third. However, research (3) that the reality may be different. In one study, volunteers assessed athletes' faces as they waited for their medals. In particular, they looked out for athletes with a 'Duchenne smile', which is thought to show happiness and is (4) by a raising of the mouth and a crinkling round the eyes. Gold medal winners were rated as happiest, but those in second place seemed less happy than bronze medallists. Researchers also found that the (5) by which a medal was won or lost appeared important: silver medallists who (6) lost out on gold were significantly less happy than those who only just beat the third-placed athlete. Do Silver medallists (7) on how they might have won gold, whereas bronze medallists just feel lucky to win something? We can't be sure, but researchers think comparative performance may greatly affect the (8) of happiness.

The sixteenth-century instrument-maker Andrea Amati is (0) with inventing the modern violin. Over a hundred years later, another Italian, Antonio Stradivari, introduced adjustments to Amati's designs, creating violins that are now (1) considered to be the finest ever made. But why do these violins sound so beautiful? Where does the secret to their brilliance (2) ? Recent research suggests that it (3) from the way their sounds (4) to the human voice. Scientists recorded antique violins and compared them with the sounds of male and female vocalists. Their (5) focus was on 'formants', harmonic tones characteristic of human voices, and they found that Amati violins produced 'formants' similar to those of bass and baritone singers, while those of Stradivari violins were similar to tenors and altos. 'Stradivari violins clearly possess female singing qualities,' said one researcher, and this may well (6) to their perceived sweetness. The (7) between the violins and human voices is not accidental. 'Early violins accompanied songs and dances,' said the researcher. 'It's conceivable that Amati and Stradivari wanted instruments that could (8) into the music by imitating human voices.'

Goals
An obsession with achieving goals is a common (0) of life in many parts of the world today. From childhood, people are encouraged to (1) goals, and then strive to achieve them. This means people accomplish things they wouldn't otherwise have managed, but such a narrow focus can (2) to problems.
One problem is that after reaching a goal, the (3) of achievement is often brief, and you're left unsure where to direct the energy you've been using to (4) your goals. Another issue is that you're so used to pushing, often well beyond your (5) , that you don't recognise the need for recovery time. Also, while you're so focused on one thing, other demands in life inevitably (6) up, and it's easy to lose (7) of those aspects of life which replenish you - relationships, exercise and hobbies.
What can be done? Besides allowing time to recover and (8) neglected needs, it helps if you divide the process of achieving a goal into small steps and reward yourself each time you reach one. It's the process that brings happiness, not the endpoint.

A lost Amazonian civilisation
In the early years of the 16th century, the first Europeans to travel to the Amazon region (0) seeing widespread settlements, including cities and roads. These accounts were subsequently (1) as fantasies, however, and for centuries the region was considered a largely untouched wilderness.
In recent decades, however, deforestation has helped reveal evidence, mainly in the (2) of large earthworks, of extensive ancient settlements. In one recent study of a (3) remote part of the Amazon, researchers (4) satellite images and identified 81 ancient sites, (5) from single hamlets to large fortified villages. The team also visited many sites and came (6) fragments of ceramics and other traces of human presence.
These discoveries have added (7) to the idea that populations in the Amazon were much greater than once thought, and it is now estimated that as many as 10 million people lived there. What happened to them all? According to one expert, 'Diseases travelled faster than people, and populations were weakened by European diseases, like smallpox, even before Europeans ever (8) foot in the area.'
