

Commonwealth

The Commonwealth is a group of 56 countries. Most of them were once part of the British Empire. It was created in 1931, and now it focuses on cooperation, human rights, and friendship between nations. The countries in the Commonwealth share common values like democracy and peace. Every year, the Commonwealth Day is celebrated on the second Monday of March. King Charles III is the current head of the Commonwealth, but each country is independent and manages itself. One interesting fact: Commonwealth countries have about 2.5 billion people, which is one-third of the world's population! Another fun fact: The Commonwealth Games, a sports event like the Olympics, are held every four years and include unique sports like netball and lawn bowls.
