

A. Listen and repeat.

First Conditional

The first conditional refers to a possible condition and its probable result. These sentences are based on facts, and they are used to make statements about the real world, and about particular situations.

If you have a stomachache you will need to take an antacid.
If clause (Condition) Main clause (Result)

In first conditional sentences, you can also use modals in the main clause instead of the future tense to express the degree of certainty.

If you have a cold, you can stay home.

B. Look and write.

sore throat

If + simple present
If you continue with a sore throat,
Future
we will go to the doctor.

cough

sore eyes

broken arm