- F Where did George Stephenson go?

THE ROCKET

- 1 _____
George Stephenson was born in Northumberland, England, in 1781 and his son Robert was born in 1803. They were very interested in trains. George invented the tracks that trains move on (the first one was eight miles long!), and he and Robert then built one of the most famous trains ever – the 'Rocket'.
- 2 _____
In 1829, George Stephenson built a new track in the north of England, between Liverpool and Manchester. When the line was ready, it was time to find the fastest train. There was an award of £500 for the winner – a lot of money in those days. There were three trains, and one of them was the 'Rocket'.
- 3 _____
It was an exciting day, and crowds of people came to watch. The three trains moved along the line while the people cheered them on. The 'Rocket' was faster than the other two. Also, the other two had problems and stopped a lot, but the 'Rocket' didn't stop at all! It was the winner and the Stephensons became famous.
- 4 _____

A year later, the line between Manchester and Liverpool opened. Once again, people came to see the train. Unfortunately this time there was a tragedy. William Huskisson, a very famous man, was standing on the track when the 'Rocket' hit him. He died later in hospital.

Child genius

The world is fascinated by brilliant people. ¹ _____ An excellent example is Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, who first played a difficult piece of music when he was four. But let's go back to the beginning. His only sister was Maria Anna. Their father began teaching them music when they were very young. ² _____ Her three-year-old brother Wolfgang listened and watched. Soon, the father was teaching Wolfgang too and the boy learnt very quickly. In fact, he began writing music at the age of five. Unbelievably, a year later, he and his sister were performing for the kings and queens of Europe. The children were considered to be musical geniuses. Wolfgang travelled throughout Europe with his sister and father. Travelling in those days was long and hard, especially for a young child. Sometimes the family didn't have enough money. ³ _____ It was a very difficult time for the young musician. Sadly, although he became successful as an adult, he died poor. His wife had to sell some of his music.

- A Maria Anna was seven when she began to play the keyboard – a type of piano.
- B Wolfgang showed more talent than his sister Maria Anna.
- C When their talent is known at a young age, we are even more amazed.
- D Mozart's music was so beautiful that we still enjoy it today.
- E Frequently, one of them became ill and they cancelled performances.
