

(Susan is a new student. She goes to the university to register.)

A: Excuse me. Can you help me? I'm looking for the

B: Maybe I can. I think it's in the . Are you a new student?

A: Yes, I am.

B: Well, look, here is the map of the campus. We're at the entrance now. The building we is the Students Union, the building is the Administration Building.

A: Thank you.

B: With pleasure.

(Susan comes out of the Administration Building and wants to buy some course books.)

A: Excuse me. I'm a new student here. I'm looking for the bookstore. Do you know where it is?

B: The bookstore? Let me see. We are at the Administration Building. Do you see Gymnasium there, the one facing us ?

A: Yes, is the tall white building over there?

B: Right. The bookstore is the gymnasium, the cinema and the bank.

A: I see. Thank you very much.

B: You are welcome.

(Susan comes out of the bookstore and she plans to go to the tennis club.)

A: Excuse me, could you tell me where the tennis club is?

B: Tennis Club?... er... I think it is in the Sports Centre. When you go to the sports centre, you will find a swimming pool. The tennis club is it, the playground. You can't miss it.

A: Thanks a lot.

A: Excuse me, I'm looking for the computer centre. Could you tell me where it is?

B: The Computer Centre? Yes, it's            the library,            the recreation centre.

A:            the library,            the recreation centre.

B: Yes, that's right.

A: Thank you very much.

A: Excuse me, could you tell me where the cafeteria is?.

B: Oh, cafeteria? I think there is one in the recreation centre.

A: Recreation centre?

B: Yes, when you come to the recreation centre, you will see three buildings there. The            one has a cafeteria. You can see a big            there. You can't miss it.

A: Thank you very much.
