Engage: Shared Reading -- Grumpy Goat by Brett Helquist

<https://youtu.be/oy691g5yRE4>

Goat had never had a single friend in his life.
He didn't want one now.
He was hungry. He was grumpy.
He didn't want to share.

Characters in Grumpy Goat

Setting in Grumpy Goat

Problem

Compare/Contrast them.

Grumpy Goat	T- CHART TEMPLATE	3 Billy Goats

This T-Chart is perfect to compare two options (such as characteristics, specs, ideas, characters, events, etc.).
List the topics as headings for the columns below. Then make comparisons by writing statements in the corresponding columns.

Then answer some story questions about the stories:

1. Story 1: Explain what part of the story was the most exciting to read and why.
2. Story 2: Explain what part of the story was the funniest or the saddest and why.

Then don't forget your ELA Stations in your Live Workbook: I will meet with the guided reading group!
