Script:

I felt really tired when I took the bus to school yesterday because Sarah and I had been to a party the evening before. I didn't go to bed until after one. I hadn't been on the bus long when I suddenly realized that I had left my mathematics project at home. Then I began to wonder. Had I left it at the bus stop or on top of my desk in my room? I just couldn't remember. I knew Miss. Ramirez was going to give me a 0.
