

Module 6 – Internet Slang

Student: _____

Internet slang

Internet slang, or the language we use specifically for online communication or texting, has become well-known to many young people today. Most of the slang we use in our messages comes from abbreviations of English words or phrases. We often use them to be able to write more quickly.

Choose the Internet Slang according to its usage.

Usage	Internet Slang
We use this to ask the other person's opinion on the same topic.
This is used as a justification for doing something that may not be acceptable for everyone.
We use this phrase when we want to tell the truth, but we think that what we are going to say the other person may not like.
This can be used to tell someone to text you, all of you, or go out.
This is when we are disappointed about something or in someone and we shake our head in disbelief.
